Getting Backup

If you are a mom, dad, grandparent or designated instructor in your home right now because your kid's school is meeting virtually, I feel your pain. It is truly difficult doing things effectively without the right tools, resources, training, or adequate help. Churches, schools and restaurants have all pivoted to modified models of gathering to accommodate the times.

I applaud everyone doing their best to adapt to conditions previously unheard of for a few generations. One thing that's now clear is that no one is exempt; everyone has been affected in some way. We are learning new practices on the fly. My hat is off to those doing their best to make things better for the good of everyone.

After months of adjusting your daily routine, what are some of your biggest questions and concerns? I would like to hear them, seriously. Send me a few lines in a text or email. Let's pray about things together. We really are better together. Nobody can do it all by themselves these days. We're just people; get a little backup, maybe!

Journey Church exists to help others; we are all the "others" right now. No one is gathering in their normal places with people as before. Let us know how to support you and your family. I really mean it, how can we help? Everyone needs a little backup eventually. Everyday life can be such a hassle right now; buying groceries, going to a doctor appointment, or moving into a new home. Everything we once did with ease and familiarity now requires additional steps. More time is needed to complete some of the simplest tasks. Sometimes it just feels like it's not worth the hassle. Maybe you are thinking, "I'll just eat stale pop tarts and go buy groceries another day." We're all just people and fatigue has taken a toll on most of us in some way by now.

Journey Church is here to help. If your belly is hungry or your toes are sticking out your shoes, we can help. Let us be your backup with more prayers or positive words. We have a handful of in-person volunteers and all of them are highly engaged to continue our mission for our community. If you are at home attending church online, want to help inspire you; you are still a part of our family. Give us a call and we will listen to your struggles or victories. Stay connected.

I am staying positive. We all can do that. God is with us. He has promised we are never alone (Matthew 28:19-20). Cling to those words on your worst days; share them with a friend on your best days. Tell them everyone can use a little backup.

If you or someone you know is searching for a little hope, let's schedule a time to talk. We can hook you up with a virtual small group on Zoom to give you a lift each week. Maybe you've put off making a decision for baptism. We can help with that, also; it can be private, just for you and God.

Keep telling yourself and everyone you meet, we are better together.

Moving Forward. God is Good.
